- We are responsible for the well-being and growth of the school community.
- We are resources for each other.

Student Learning

- We use all data to make decisions about student programs.
- Instructional/assessment practices are research-based and adjusted daily to meet each student's need.
- We teach to specific learning targets and use formative and summative assessments to measure progress.

Continuous Improvement

Everyone is coached to improve their practice and is reading cutting-edge research on best methods and applications to increase knowledge and skills.

Theory of Action

If we create a trusting, risk-free, transparent, collaborative environment for learning new knowledge and skills, then the structure and protocols of professional learning communities will accelerate the sharing of best practices, using data for adjusting instruction, and providing interventions for achieving higher measureable academic levels.
